DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments, see remarks, filed 3/30/05, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1, and 5-8 under 35 USC 103. Eguchi is not prior art under 102(a), 102(b) or 102(e) and it is improper to cite to Eguchi under 103(a), have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Eguchi et al JP 2002-318145 filed on 4-20-2001.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 1, 5-8 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eguchi et al (JP 2002-318145, filing date 04-20-2001)

Regarding to claimed invention, Eguchi et al discloses a method for measuring flow by means of an ultrasonic flow meter, see abstract, lines 1-3, the method comprising: step of transmitting ultrasonic signal in an upstream and a downstream direction, such as transmitter 5 drives the first and second ultrasonic wave oscillators 2, 3 to transmit an ultrasonic wave, see figure 1; initiating a time measurement at a starting time upon a receipt sonic signal and stopping time, such as time counter 10 measures the duration of time while repeating unit 9 counts the predetermined number of the signals output from the judging unit 8, and a propagation time measuring unit 13b measures a propagating duration of the ultrasonic wave based on a start signal from the controller for starting transmitting the ultrasonic wave and the signal output form the judging unit , see paragraphs 0053-0057, and also see figure 3 and appropriate text. Eguchi et al discloses operation of flow meter with time difference measuring unit, however, Eguchi et al. does not specifically discloses the first series of transmissions is inside the reference band as claimed. However, it is know to those skill artisans that ultrasonic flow meters are able to cope with wide span of the time difference and the time difference changes according to the reference voltage. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of the ordinary skill in the art to make transmission in accordance with the reference voltage.

Art Unit: 2142

Regarding claim 5, Eguchi et al discloses controller and judging unit and discloses timely manner resolutions defined by controller as paragraph 0055.

Regarding claims 6 and 7, Eguchi et al discloses first starting time and first positive zero crossing point, as in paragraph 0059.

Regarding claim 8, such as first starting time in the first transmission is fixed value, Eguchi discloses the range of reference voltage enables the judging unit to detect specified time in signal, see paragraph 0059.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 2-4 and 9-10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The cited prior art does not disclose a second series of transmission where the starting time in each transmission is incremented or decremented until the time period between the starting time and stopping time is approximately equal to a multiple of half of the time period of the ultra sonic signal, but preferably equal to the time period.
